

Please! The internet offers all the content, good and bad, that anyone could ever want. To restrict satellite radio is against all reason. Radio broadcasters, as well as a group in government, want to wield a draconian sword against all who threaten or disagree with them. This is against all that is American.